

SAYS REPUBLICANS ARE DELAYING BILL

Senator Owen Charges Delays In Consideration of Currency
Bill by Idle Debate

MANY SENATE SEATS VACANT

Republicans Insist Upon Presence of Quorum During Progress of Currency
Debate at Night Session of Senate

CRAWFORD URGES HITCHCOCK BILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Charges by Senator Owen, chairman of the banking and currency committee that the Republicans were trying to delay the currency bill and waste time by insisting upon the presence of a quorum broke into the smooth progress of currency debate in the senate tonight.

For an hour and a half a wordy battle waged across the partly dividing line of the chamber threatening at times to break the bounds of senate proprieties. The Republicans endeavored to show that Senator Owen himself had occupied time "uselessly" in debate and that the Democrats had repeatedly absented themselves from the senate and ignored its business.

"Day after day is used up here in idle debate," declared Senator Owen, "that is the reason why seats are vacant."

"If the senator from Oklahoma has his way," retorted Senator Gallinger from the Republican side "he would make his speech and then arguments would be closed and the vote taken."

The altercation grew out of a statement by Senator Weeks who presented figures to show that from 8:30 until 9:20 o'clock tonight counts of the senate taken at 10 minute intervals showed far less than a quorum and in the majority of cases more Republicans than Democrats present.

Charges Needless Delay. Senator Owen charged directly that calls for a quorum were made to cause delay. He presented a list of more than a score of waiting legislative subjects with the declaration that congress was denying the country relief while it filibustered over the currency bill.

"If there is any one senator who wastes the time of this senate without reason it is the senator from Oklahoma when he tries to read us a lecture on our duty," declared Senator Gallinger.

"It is our right and duty to see that business of such importance as currency legislation is carried on with at least a majority of senators in their seats."

Senator Gallinger intimated that Senator Owen had been derelict in his duties as a member of the appropriation committee of the senate to which both senators belonged.

"If my only opportunity to see him had been in the work of the appropriation committee," he said, "I would not have been able to recognize the senator from Oklahoma tonight."

Senator Smoot denied emphatically that Republicans were attempting in any way to impede work on currency, they were attending closely to the sessions of the senate and attempting to hasten consideration of the bill as rapidly as was possible.

An actual consideration of the currency bill was limited to speeches by Senator McLean and Crawford. Senator Crawford, a Republican member of the committee who joined in preparation of the Hitchcock bill urged the adoption of that measure. He intimated, however, that he would vote for the bill finally agreed upon by the senate even though his suggestions were not accepted, because he recognized the necessity of improving existing laws.

U. S. ARMY DECREASES IN NUMBERS PAST YEAR

EIGHTY PER CENT OF APPLICANTS FOR ENLISTMENT ARE REJECTED

Total Enlistment During Past Year
Reaches 25,086; Desertions Aggregate 4,451 or 5.48 per cent of the Enlisted Force of the Army.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—With its authorized strength increased by 3,352 men the United States army lost instead of gaining numbers during the fiscal year just closed. Including the Philippine scouts the army had 85,569 men compared with 87,965 twelve months before.

Adjutant General George Andrews in his annual report made public to-day, commented upon the fact that 80 per cent of the applicants for enlistment at recruiting stations were rejected while 14 per cent of those accepted at recruiting stations subsequently were rejected at depots. Out of a total of 25,086 enlistments, during the last fiscal year, 18,802 were native white, 3,365 foreign white, 2,049 colored, twenty-seven Indians, 216 Porto Ricans and 627 Filipinos.

Desertions during the past year aggregated 4,451 or 5.48 per cent of the enlisted force of the army as against 4.43 per cent during the preceding fiscal year. The Ninth and Tenth cavalry negro regiments and the fifth infantry had the smallest number of desertions.

The union part of the roster of officers and enlisted men of the union and confederate armies has long since been virtually completed, General Andrews said, and the work on the confederate records has progressed so far that the clerical force is now engaged in reproducing the records of the Virginia organization which will probably be completed this year. This leaves to be done only that work relating to the confederate organizations not credited to any particular state.

Lynch, who according to an unconfirmed report, will be retained by the league as chief umpire—he formerly was an umpire—delivered the conference before they had selected Governor Tener, a statement in which he expressed a hope that they would acquire themselves some of the dignity they would expect from his successor. Later Lynch denied a report that he would associate himself with the Federal League.

DESIRES TO FILE RESTITUTION SUIT

Frisco Receivers Ask Permission to File Restitution Suit Against Former Directors

SUCCEEDS WEST AS RECEIVER

John W. Lusk, Retired Banker of St. Paul Succeeds Thomas H. West as Receiver
—Nixon and Biddle Resign

MAY COMPEL RETURN OF $3,975,000

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 9.—The Frisco receivers late this afternoon filed a petition in the United States district court asking permission to file a restitution suit against the former directors and other officers of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad who were members of the syndicate which built the Brownsville road and then sold it to the Frisco at a profit of several million dollars. This is the second suit of the kind filed today.

The personnel of the receivership of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad was separated today from the directorate and officership of the road, when W. C. Nixon and W. B. Biddle, receivers, resigned as president and vice president respectively. They also resigned as directors.

Retired Banker Now Receiver. Thomas H. West, chairman of the board of directors of the St. Louis Union Trust company, which financed many Frisco affairs before the receivership, vacated the office of receiver—his resignation having been accepted yesterday—and today John W. Lusk, a retired banker of St. Paul, who previously had not been connected with the road, succeeded Mr. West as receiver.

Before the receivership, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Biddle were vice presidents in charge respectively of operation and traffic.

The resignation of Mr. West as receiver and the retirement of Receivers Nixon and Biddle from their railroad office was due to the investigation into the affairs of the road conducted by the Interstate commerce commission.

Comes as Climax. The resignation of Mr. Nixon and of Mr. Biddle came as the climax of a day of important developments in Frisco affairs. Two hours before their resignations were turned into the board of directors, William Niles of New York, who owns 600 shares of Frisco stock, had applied through his attorney to Federal Circuit Judge Sanborn for permission to bring suit against certain officers and former officers of the road to compel them to restore individual profits aggregating $3,975,000 which he alleged they had made in the promotion of feeder lines and their sale to the Frisco. Two hours after the application had been presented to Judge Sanborn he granted Niles permission formally to file his application. The application then became a matter of court record.

Mr. Nixon and Mr. Biddle were appointed receivers of the road when W. L. Winchell, former president of the Frisco resigned as receiver to accept a position with the Union Pacific. Mr. Nixon was elected president a few weeks ago when the board of directors was re-organized by St. Louis interests.

While the road is in receivership the directors have no authority over the property. Just before leaving the court room this evening Judge Sanborn granted Niles permission to bring to restitution suit.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 9.—In a statement made today Governor Dunne challenges the assertion of former Governor Charles S. Deneen made December 3rd, in answer to the statement of the state tax commission, following the fixing of the state tax rate for 1914 at seventy cents.

Declaring that the former governor does not deny the facts as set forth, Governor Dunne asks why Mr. Deneen selected Jan. 1st, 1913 as the date upon which to show the condition of the state treasury instead of February 3rd, the date upon which the Republican treasurer turned over the office to his Democratic successor. On February 3rd, 1913, the governor says, there was a balance of $2,660,396.00 in the treasury to take care of outstanding liabilities aggregating $5,231,853.88.

Statement of Governor Dunne. "Upon my return from Washington I find in the public press of Governor Deneen in answer to the statement issued on Nov. 29th, by the state tax commission of this state, in which it is pointed out that by failure to fix adequate rates in the years 1911 and 1912, the state tax commission of the last administration created a deficiency between the amount ordered by law to be raised and the amount actually raised by the tax of $5,124,739.00.

In this statement of Governor Deneen he does not deny these facts, but attempts to muddy the waters by declaring that there was on hand in the treasury on January 1st, 1913 a cash balance of $4,258,664.21, and in the various state institutions $1,022,546.39, making a total of $5,281,210.60 only.

Why he should select January 1st, 1913 as the pregnant date upon which to show the condition of the public treasury I cannot understand. Why did he not take February 3rd, 1913, that being the date that Mr. Mitchell former treasurer turned over the money in the treasury to William Ryan, Jr., the present state treasurer. On that date February 3rd, 1913, Mr. Mitchell turned over to William Ryan, Jr., the present incumbent $3,564,689.49, against which there were outstanding on that date $904,293.05 in warrants actually issued by his administration, leaving a net balance on that date in the treasury of $2,660,396.44, against which there remained on that date a balance of unexpended appropriations made by the seventh general assembly of $8,234,853.88. Moreover Governor Deneen does not state that during the month of January 1913, he signed requisitions for funds for H. A. Haughin, treasurer of the University of Illinois, aggregating $958,158.08.

In other words when Mr. Deneen former governor, Mr. Mitchell, former auditor and Mr. McCullough, former auditor stepped out of office there was only $2,660,396.44 in the treasury over and above outstanding warrants, amounting to $904,293.05 were presented for payment within a few days. This balance $2,660,396.44 was all that was left in the treasury to take care of liabilities created by appropriations then in existence and unpaid aggregating $8,234,853.88.

Moreover in addition to this lamentable condition of the treasury the forty-eighth general assembly found upon assembly that it was necessary to enact deficiency appropriation bills to cover liabilities incurred prior to that date by the secretary of state's office, board of contracts, treasurer's office, auditor's office and livestock board, aggregating $500,000—or thereabout."

CONGRESS NULLIFIES MEXICAN ELECTION

Reason Given for Nullifying the Election Is Insufficiency of
Number of Votes Cast

CATHOLIC DEPUTIES ABSENT

Although No Dissenting Votes Were Cast
On Report, the Catholic Deputies Did Not Attend—New Election Call for July

FEDERALS THREATEN MUTINY

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 9.—The Mexican congress today nullified the presidential elections. New elections are called for next July.

Congress, according to this action, expects General Huerta to remain in the presidency for at least seven months more and if the time necessary for the selection and installation of his successor is taken into consideration it will be well towards the end of September next year before he yields his power to another. The action of the deputies was accompanied by no debate.

The reason given for nullifying the elections was the insufficiency of the number of votes cast. It was stated that the entire number of voting places in the republic is 14,225 and that returns were received from 707.

Although there were no dissenting votes in the chamber on the committee report it was noted that the Catholic deputies absented themselves from the session.

ARMY IS BANKRUPT.

PRESDEN, Tex., Dec. 9.—With General Salvador Mercado's northern division of the Mexican federal army in bankruptcy and with the soldiers threatening mutiny unless they are paid, every restraint was enforced today to prevent a general rush of the federals across the river from Ojinaga, Mexico, into United States territory. Driven from Chihuahua City where they were besieged by rebels to a point where communication could be opened, the army sent the strength of the Huerta government in the north reached the border with an empty treasury.

The appearance of his financial agents on the American side soon after the arrival of the troops at Ojinaga, and the fact that General Ynez Salazar and other officers at once communicated with Mexico City were no surprise to American army officials who were apprised of conditions. The United States troops here reinforced by other troops along the border in preparations for an emergency, were informed of the Mexican troops' desire to rush across the border. Rebel agents who went into Ojinaga, also reported that only the prompt payment of the soldiers would appease them.

Meantime civilian and federal refugees from Chihuahua continued to pour into Ojinaga in their long flight from the state capital. General Salazar, one of the seven generals who left their garrison for temporary in command of the Mexican frontier villages,

MAPLEWOOD AND MAPLECREST PROPERTIES HAVE NEW OWNERS

Transaction Between Dr. E. L. Crouch and Mrs. Norbury and Dollear Is Completed—New Management of Sanatorium to Take Formal Possession December 15.

An important business and realty transaction which has been pending for several weeks was consummated Tuesday when Dr. E. P. Norbury, Dr. A. H. Dollear and Garm Norbury became the owners of all the stock of the Norbury sanatorium company and of Maplecrest sanatorium owned by Dr. E. L. Crouch. The transfer will take effect December 15th although the new owners will practically take over the property today. Dr. Crouch will remain at Maplecrest until January first and at that time Dr. and Mrs. Dollear will move to the property. Dr. Crouch will continue to live in Jacksonville and will engage in the general practice of medicine and in consultation work.

Maplewood Established in 1901. The Norbury Sanatorium company was organized in 1901 and Maplewood sanatorium was established on South Diamond street, the Carriel property being leased for the purpose. Later the Mathews property on the opposite side of the street was added to the equipment. The stock in the company was at that time all owned by Dr. Norbury, John R. Robertson and A. H. Rankin and in 1909 Dr. Norbury withdrew selling his interests to Dr. Crouch. The business of the sanatorium increased and in October 1912 Dr. Crouch purchased Kilmarock from Mrs. W. S. Jones, the property including 31 acres and after remodeling the house changed the name to Maplecrest.

Since his term of service with the state board of administration ceased Dr. Norbury has been seeking a location for the establishment of a sanatorium, with the intention of associating Dr. Dollear with him. The search for a location ended in the making of an offer to Dr. Crouch for Maplecrest and to the Norbury Sanatorium company for their leases and after some negotiations the offer was accepted.

Are Well Known Physicians. Dr. Norbury as everyone in Jacksonville knows is an alienist with a reputation which extends all over the United States. Dr. Dollear, his associate, has shown special ability in the treatment of mental and nervous diseases. After graduating from St. Louis university he was house physician at Maplewood sanatorium. Then he served as assistant superintendent at the Water-town state hospital and from there instead of taking a position at the Elgin hospital to which he was eligible went to the psychopathic institute at Kankakee. Then he spent a year in post-graduate work at Rush medical college in Chicago and a few months since returned to Jacksonville.

Dr. Crouch graduated from Washington university in St. Louis and for six years practiced in his home city of Mt. Vernon. Then in 1907 he became assistant physician at the Jacksonville State hospital and remained there practically all of the time until 1909 when he became interested in the Norbury sanatorium. He has specialized in mental cases with success but has also paid attention to general practice. Jacksonville people will be glad to know that he and his family will not remove from the city.

Dr. Norbury and Dr. Dollear will have the facilities which they demand for their work and there can be no doubt but that with the experience and reputation they have that within a short time still larger equipment will be needed.

Speakers Unable to be Heard—Warfield Brown Wins First and Robert Nesmith 2nd Essay Prize.

An excellent program prepared for High School Day at the "Made in Jacksonville" show yesterday evening was made impossible by presence in the limited space of the show rooms of over a thousand people who filled every foot of standing room as well as a portion of the hall above. A number of well played musical selections were given by the students but the press of the throng with the noise overhead stopped the speakers a few remarks being made only by T. P. Carter. The prizes for the essays on the subject, "Why You Should Live in Jacksonville," were awarded to Warfield Brown, 1st, and Robert Nesmith 2nd. Dawson Darley received honorable mention. The musical organizations which participated were the High School Glee Club, the chorus, the High School Ensemble club and the High School orchestra. The refreshment booth was very successful, the young ladies in charge selling candy, cake, coffee and pumpkin pies. The exhibit of the school attracted much attention with its excellent array of fine sewing by the freshmen and sophomore domestic science girls and the furniture and expert cabinet work by the advanced manual training students.

The Prize Essays. The $5.00 prize winning essay by Warfield Brown follows: Jacksonville is situated in the midst of the most fertile region of the great state of Illinois. The streets lined by beautiful trees, the houses of which form a natural arch above, is a prominent characteristic. Many beautiful homes and public buildings adorn the city. The library, postoffice, churches and state institutions add much to the attractiveness of Jacksonville. The new eighth grade building will fill a long felt want. Nichol's Park is a beautiful spot and affords recreation for all classes. The Jacksonville woolen mills are the largest of their kind in the world and give employment to a large number.

Jacksonville offers excellent transportation facilities. Four different railroads enter the city and an "interurban" between Springfield and Jacksonville is under advisement. Over twenty passenger trains arrive and depart daily.

Jacksonville contains no saloons. This contributes largely to a clean town and a good moral atmosphere. Furthermore there has just been a law passed prohibiting the importation of intoxicating liquors.

The educational advantages of Jacksonville are unexcelled. It has two of the best colleges in the middle west, the Illinois College and the Illinois Woman's College. Many of the alumni of these institutions are occupying important positions of public trust in state and nation. Brown's Business College is an up-to-date institution, recognized in all respects as first class. The public schools are known as maintaining a very high standard and one which is attained by few others. Rountt College, made possible by the liberality of a prominent citizen, is doing its share towards educating a large number of young men and women.

The business men of the city are noted for their public spirit which is manifested in an organization, the Chamber of Commerce, which interests itself in everything pertaining to the welfare of the city.

Robert W. Nesmith, the winner of the second prize, a subscription to a municipal magazine, speaks primarily from the viewpoint of a student. "I like to live in Jacksonville because of her educational advantages," he says. "Her numerous schools and institutions furnish a strong basis for a valuable and practical education." He speaks of the intellectual atmosphere of the city and the comparative high standards of citizenship in Jacksonville. "Jacksonville's wealth is in her men."

Mr. Nesmith likes Jacksonville because of its attractiveness as a city and because of its many beautiful homes. He mentions the absence of saloons and the high moral tone of the city. The public buildings, parks and fine residences all go to make Jacksonville a pleasant place in which to live. Truly, the speaker says is the city the "Athens of the West."

Musical Organizations.

Yesterday evening marks the second public appearance of the high school orchestra which under the directorship of Frank Gruenewald is one of the most active of the student organizations. The members are Helen Sorrells, Carrie Mackness, Geneva Arthur, Ann Frances Bradley, Grace Hoffman, Earl Briscoe, Dawson Darley, Dean Winchester and Harold Dunlap, violin; Wilbur Rogers, clarinet; cornet Harold Boyd; String bass, Prof. Morrison and baritone, Leonard Potter. In the High School Ensemble club are Helen Sorrells, Carrie Mackness, Frank Gruenewald, Grace Hoffman, Prof. Morrison and Earl Briscoe.

PRESENTS ADDITIONAL FIGURES ON CITY LIGHT PLANT

Commissioner Brennan Taking Prof. Bryant's Estimates as Basis Shows City Can Save Money by Making Own Light Current.

A study of the following figures compiled by Commissioner Brennan and based on estimates made by Prof. Bryant will show that Jacksonville will be a heavier loser by entering into any contract to buy light on the proposition made by the Railway & Light Company. If you doubt the figures, if there is anything you would like to know about the city's books or the city's business go down to the city hall and everything you wish to see will be at your disposal. The city officials desire the greatest possible publicity.

Cost of Operating Proposed Street Lighting Plant.

Salary per year	$ 3600.00
Coal, per year	3083.08
Oil, per year	104.41
Waste, per year	27.25
Boiler Compound, per yr	41.92
Insurance, per year	99.13
Average yearly interest on $50,000 bonds at 5 per cent for 20 years	1314.10
Depreciation, per year	2500.00
Water, per year	367.89
Lamps upkeep of plant and lines	1300.00

Total cost $12,437.78
Extra Cost if Used for Pumping Water.
 Extra coal, per year $ 9828.00
 Extra oil, per year 104.41
 Extra Waste, per year 27.25
 Extra Water, per year 367.89

Total Extra Cost $10,418.54
Street lighting cost $12,437.78
Extra cost for Pumping $10,418.54

Grand Total $22,886.32
 Now if we contract the lighting of streets and pumping of water for $27,000.00 we must anticipate taxes to pay same at 5 per cent, 15 months which amounts to 1,687.50

Total per year $28,687.50
Total cost of light and pumping per year by city $22,886.32
Balance in favor of city per year $ 5,801.18
 Or $116,023.60 for 20 years.

The same installation leaves 66 K. W. more than is necessary for street lighting which could be marketed at a profit of 6c per K. W. hour. If the whole 66 K. W. were sold the profit per year would be $34,689.60
 If 12 only were sold the profit per year would be 17,344.80
 If 1-4 only were sold the profit per year would be 8,672.40
 If we only marketed 1-4 of our reserve it would show a profit per year of 8,672.40
 Add to this the profit or saving on light and pumping of 5,801.18

We have a total profit or saving per year of $14,473.58

Assuming we pay by anticipating taxes at 5 per cent on $22,886.32 for 15 months which amounts to $ 1,420.38
 Deduct this from the yearly profit of $14,473.58
 And we have a net yearly profit per year of $13,053.20
 The interest on Anticipation warrants calculated for 15 months as it requires that time to take them up.

PATE DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST BURLINGTON IS ON TRIAL

Prosecution Has Rested and Defense Has Commenced Presentation of Evidence.

There is considerable interest in the suit of Mrs. Alta Pate, administratrix of the estate of Charles Pate against the Burlington, which is now on trial in the Circuit court before Judge Creighton. The complainants placed a number of witnesses on the stand yesterday and rested their case and the defense for the railroad was opened. Mrs. Pate is seeking $10,000 damages because of the death of her husband in an automobile accident. Among the witnesses for the complainant were Mrs. Pate, Henry Depe, Guy Wilday, J. McNeal, William Rich, Louis Depe, Dr. Estes, F. E. McDonnell and E. M. Henderson. It is the claim of the prosecution that the proper warning was not given by the engineer as he approached the crossing that the train was moving at a speed greater than is permitted by law and that certain box cars had been left on the side track, extending to the crossing and obstructing the view.

The defense has practically just opened the case with the testimony of engineer Lisson. The jurors are Harry Dawson, Richard Leake, Henry Rawlings, Cecil Rogers, Fred Mount, H. H. Ferguson, W. E. Keenan, W. H. Lamkuler, C. O. Self, Patrick Dowling, Carl Faugust and Richard Vortman.

Do you know that W. D. Cody sells the best and highest quality flour in Jacksonville and that the name of that flour is Zephyr! Zephyr!

To prove this statement we point to the record made at the state fair baking contest in Springfield. The winners in this bread show were:

First Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. A. A. Johnson, 1413 South 10th St., Springfield.

Second Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. C. H. Jones, 116 Bond ave., Springfield. Zephyr flour thus won both first and second prizes over bread from twenty other brands of flour. The loaves displayed were baked from twenty-two brands in addition to Zephyr, some of the best known and most advertised brands on the market today like Seal of Minnesota, Gold Medal, Pillsbury, Ceresota, Occident, Aristos and Snow White. It was easily shown that Zephyr flour had no equal among them.

Why not pay cash and get the highest quality flour here at a saving of 25 cents to 45 cents per sack.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH.

The time was when a public service corporation was interested in getting through some certain measure or by chance the result of a city election the activities of the corporation were wholly under cover. In such instances every possible influence was brought to bear to bring about the desired result. But in these days things are different and in the present instance, the Jacksonville light bond election, the corporation which is particularly interested makes no effort to conceal the fact that it is much concerned about the result of the election. In fact the corporation forces are being thoroughly organized in every voting precinct of the city, lined up in opposition to the light bond ordinance.

But looking at this matter from "the unprejudiced view" no doubt the present day method is an advance over the methods of other days and if the people are to have city government by corporations it is just as well for them to know about it. No, it is really better not to make a secret of the matter.

THOSE LOWER ELECTRIC RATES.

Voters of Jacksonville in the coming election need not be influenced for or against the proposition by the promise of the local light company that electric rates will be reduced "more than thirty per cent" if the city makes a contract with the company for local street lighting. The fact is that the company will reduce these prices, anyhow, January 1 or thereabouts, and for the very good reason that the prices charged here are too high, out of proportion to the rates charged elsewhere. The company knows those rates must come down for "the tendency of electric prices the past twenty-five years has been downward."

CITY COUNCIL IS ON RECORD.

The following resolution was adopted by the city council and is now a part of the records of the city. In this resolution the council pledges itself to employ a competent electrical engineer to draw the plans and specifications for the light plant and to have him superintend the entire construction, such engineer to be chosen with the approval of the following committee from the Chamber of Commerce: H. J. Rodgers, L. O. Vaughn, Fletcher Hopper, J. F. Brennan, Dr. Edward Rowe and F. E. Baldwin. Resolution Adopted.

"Believing from investigation and experience that the abandonment of our municipal light plant would not only be a great financial loss to citizens of Jacksonville but that it would also seriously impair the development and efficiency of our water supply in the future, we seek to secure light and water for the people at the lowest possible cost and to prevent the monopolizing or restriction of such necessities in the future, we favor the construction of a municipal electric light plant of the maximum efficiency."

"The association or consolidation of the light and water interests of the city will be the first step in securing a material reduction in the cost of production of light and water to the people both as a municipality and as individual consumers. The complete system of street wiring of the new plant will enable the city to enter the field of commercial lighting when practicable."

"Therefore, be it resolved, By the mayor and commissioners of Jacksonville, Ill. in session, that the proposed municipal electric light plant to be constructed from the funds derived from the $50,000 bond issue to be voted upon Dec. 20, 1913, shall be a series tungsten system as set forth in Proposal 'B' in the report of Prof. J. M. Bryant to the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce."

"We pledge this body to the employment of a competent consulting and operating engineer to be selected by the city council and public affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Said consulting engineer to make all drawings and specifications for the erection of the plant, machinery and distributing system; and supervise the construction of same. We further desire to go on record for the establishment of a system of accounting in the management of our light and water system in accordance with the requirements of the state public utilities commission and also one that will insure the maximum efficiency at the minimum expense."

"Being citizens of Jacksonville as well as public officers representing all the people of the municipality we desire to co-operate and protect our mutual interests with regard to the exploitation by any individual or corporate interests. We therefore ask the co-operation of our citizens in this step forward in establishing municipal development and placing our city in the position which she merits."

"Resolved that these resolutions be made a matter of record of the city council."

BELIEVE DOG MAD.

Canine Which Frothed at Mouth and Acted Strangely is Shot.

The mad dog scare which was on several days ago broke out afresh Tuesday when a mad dog was shot at the residence of T. J. Vaughn on North Pine street. The dog was first noticed on Railroad street, where it bit a dog and coming out to the west end of town hit a dog belonging to Arthur Cody and one belonging to Charles Lake. Parties who saw the dog, which is reported to belong to George Day, testify that the canine acted strangely and frothed at the mouth.

The police are putting forth every effort to kill all stray dogs and have given a warning to parties who know their dogs to have been bitten to keep them locked up until all danger is past. A citizen in speaking of the subject last night said that there were entirely too many stray dogs in the city and he suggested a day be named when every owner of a dog would put the animal in the cellar, so that the police could get a line on the worthless curs of the city.

MAKES REPORT TO CONGRESS

HEAD OF LAW DEPARTMENT MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS.

Attorney General McReynolds Gives Opinions Relative to Anti-Trust Suits—Would Retire Judges at Seventy—Reviews Department Events of Years.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Attorney General McReynolds in his first report as head of the law department of the government submitted to congress today, makes few recommendations for legislation. The changes he urges have more to do with the machinery of courts than with the fabric of the law.

On an anti-trust legislative program the attorney general was silent. He asked congress for an amendment to the Sherman act, the rod his department uses to bring trusts to terms, and he points out no fault in its operation.

President Wilson, however, intends to send a special message on the trust question to congress in the near future, and that undoubtedly will embody some of the attorney general's views.

Court Decrees Opposed.
Attorney General McReynolds made it clear, however, that so long as he was head of the department he would oppose court decrees in anti-trust suits where the combination was dissolved into parts under the control of the same stockholders. This plan, adopted in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases, he calls a "fundamental defect" and later adds in the same connection "my fixed purpose is to oppose any plan of dissolution which would leave the separate parts of the unlawful combination under the control of the same set of men."

To Superannuate Judges.
The attorney general offers a novel solution of the problem of superannuated federal judges. Such judges under the constitution hold office during good behavior, although they may retire at the age of 70 after ten years' service.

"I suggest," says the attorney general, "an act providing that when any judge below the supreme court fails to avail himself of the privilege of retiring now granted by law, that the president be required, with the advice and consent of the senate, to appoint another judge, who shall preside over the affairs of the court and have precedence over the older one. This will insure at all times the presence of a judge sufficiently active to discharge promptly and adequately the duties of the court."

Mr. McReynolds suggests that clerks of the United States courts should be appointed for specified terms and subject to removal by the president for cause and asks that provision be made for a review by the supreme court of the now final decisions of the court of customs appeals, on application only by the government. He approves the bill introduced by Representative Clayton giving the supreme court power to promulgate rules for trials on the law side of federal courts. He reminds congress also of needs of changes in his office and an increase in the salaries paid. He terms the present salaries "moderate for the character and amount of work to be performed."

Events of Fiscal Year.
Coming to a review of the events with which his department has been concerned for the fiscal year, the attorney general shows that when he took the office 52 cases were pending under the Sherman law, and that since March 4 eight cases have been begun. Investigations of complaints that the law has been violated pour into the department by the score each month, and come from all parts of the country.

"In many instances," the report reads, "the investigation has failed to disclose facts which would justify the institution of formal proceedings, but notice of the activity of the government has impelled officers of large and industrial corporations to curtail dangerous tendencies." The bureau of investigation has looked into thousands of cases of all kinds, those concerning violations of the Sherman law and the national banking act averaging together more than fifty a month.

Through the bureau of investigations and a corps of local white slave officers, the department, the attorney general says, has vigorously carried on the work of prosecution of offenders and has helped suppress the traffic. Out of $475,000 allotted for the detection and prosecution of crime $175,000 has been set aside for that work and the attorney general concludes "the department feels that very material progress has been made, particularly during the past year, in suppressing the most vicious features of this traffic."

I would appreciate settlement by those who are indebted to me before the holidays.
DR. J. W. HAIRGROVE.

PORT AUTHORITIES IN CONFERENCE.

New Orleans, Dec. 9.—The second annual convention of the National Association of Port Authorities of the United States was opened in this city today and will be continued until Thursday. The association was organized in New York a year ago for the purpose, as set forth in its constitution, of exchanging information relative to port construction, maintenance, operations, organization, administration and management, and of formulating recommendations, as far as possible, for uniform policies and the standardization of port facilities.

The association also aims to encourage water borne transportation of every kind and in line with this object the attendance at the present meeting includes a large representation from Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri river ports, as well as from the Atlantic, Pacific, gulf and great lakes.

Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada will address the convention on river regulation and conservation, in line with his bill now pending in congress, and Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana, president of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, will speak on Mississippi river levees and related matters.

See Anne of Old Salem at High School, Dec. 18-19.

WESTERN FUEL CASE UP.

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—The case of the Western Fuel company, in which are involved a number of the officers, directors and employees of the Western Fuel company, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government through manipulating weights, was called for trial today in the United States district court. This is the case that came into prominence with the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases, when former District Attorney McNabb resigned and charged he was being hampered in the prosecution of the cases by the department of justice at Washington. The offenses charged in the Western Fuel company indictments are felonious, punishable by imprisonment for a period of not to exceed two years or by fine of $10,000, or both.

The Ladies' Aid of Salem church will hold their annual bazaar and oyster supper at the home of Mr. Edward Armstrong, Dec. 10.

FARMERS CENTRAL FIGURES IN BIBLE SAYS PROF. LIPPINCOTT

Son of Well Known Jacksonville Attorney Suggests New Ideas About the Scriptures—Cites Instances to Prove the Bible a Rural Book.

Not only farmers, others as well will be interested in the following from the Drovers' Journal from the pen of Prof. W. A. Lippincott in which the writer talks about the Bible as a rural book and says that practically all the characters therein were farmers. Prof. Lippincott who is professor of poultry husbandry at the Kansas Agricultural college located at Manhattan and a poultry expert with a country wide reputation is the son of Julian P. Lippincott, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Jacksonville.

"Most of the people written about in the Bible were farmers or reared in the country, according to W. A. Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry at the Kansas Agricultural college, and cites many instances in support of his contention. He says: 'The Bible is a rural book. It grew out of the life of a rural people. Its ideas are bound up with the sturdy simplicity of country communities. Its prominent characters and great leaders were, with few exceptions, country bred. The problems of the Old Testament and the parables of the New found their origin and inspiration very largely in rural life, or in the conflict that waged between the city and the country. It is not until we come to the next to the last chapter of the last book of the New Testament that we find city life in any way idealized and held up to beckon men into better living.'

Leaders Country Bred.
"As one looks over the long list of Bible men who stood out from among their fellows and pioneers and finds how many of them were born or brought up on the country side, one is very strongly reminded of the rather startling modern fact that 65 per cent of the men who are today considered as of enough importance to have their names listed in 'Who's Who in America' were raised on the farm or in the rural village.

"Cain and Abel are described as country boys, as is likely to be the case with pioneers. It makes little difference whether we consider them as historical characters or as representative types, as some would have us believe; the significant fact is that they are not only described as farmers, but as specialists. Abel was a live stock farmer, while Cain was a grain farmer, and in the account of their doings, is recorded the beginnings of the age-long conflict between the stockmen of the range and the more settled tiller of the soil.

Lot Moved to Town.
"Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were stockmen of the wandering type, such as have only rather recently disappeared from our own western plains. They depended upon good range for the sustenance of their flocks and herds. You will remember that it was when the range became short that the herdsmen of Abraham and Lot quarreled and threatened to make trouble between these kinsfolk. It was necessary for them to separate in order that they might find feed for their cattle. In this connection it might be noted that Lot made the fatal mistake of choosing some good land without reference to the fact that it was in a bad neighborhood, and a further mistake in moving to the city to become, to all intents and purposes, a retired farmer, with the altogether too common modern result of dissatisfaction and trouble."

MRS. ALBERT REED DIES AT HOME IN NEWTON, IOWA

Former Jacksonville Resident Passes Away After Brief Illness, Aged 75 Years.

Mrs. Julia Wentworth Reed, wife of Albert Reed, died recently at her home in Newton, Iowa, after a serious illness of a week. Mrs. Reed was a resident of this city for many years, she and her husband having left for Iowa fifteen years ago. She has a number of friends in the city, who will be shocked by the news of her passing. The Newton Record of recent date says regarding her life: Julian Wentworth was born at Rollingsford, New Hampshire, Jan. 5, 1838 her parents' names being John A. and Judith A. Wentworth. On the 13th day of May 1868, she was united in marriage to Albert H. Reed, at Jacksonville, Ill., making their home in that city for a period of 31 years in the same home. In 1899 they decided to move to Iowa.

God blessed them with a family of four children, viz: Elizabeth Wentworth Reed, who, when the clouds seemed the darkest, darkening her pathway, when death was soon to close the mother's eyes to all things earthly, like a devoted daughter, faithfully administered to her mother's wants; Julius A., the second child, resides in New York city; Jennie, the third child, died in infancy, and was buried in the Jacksonville cemetery. The fourth child, William T., resides in Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Reed was a faithful and consistent member of the Congregational church, holding her membership at Jacksonville.

How shall we characterize the Christian wife-mother? So many qualities were blended in her richly endowed nature, sensitive as the eye is to the breath of the wind, as the aspen to the breeze. She was instantly affected by her surroundings, whether of flowers, or music, or scenes of beauty—appreciation or affliction but she was as strong as basalt in the great principles of faith and conduct, which underpinned her character.

BUILDING OF ENGINE 68 IS LARGE UNDERTAKING

FITTED WITH RAMSEY OUTSIDE VALVE MOTION.

Intrusting Work to George W. Im-grund was Great Compliment to Foreman of Local Shops—Some Facts About Locomotive.

Some four or five years ago J. P. Ramsey, the efficient president and general manager of the C. P. & St. L. railroad, conceived the idea of an improved outside valve motion for locomotives and to think was to act, but not hastily. He thought and studied much and intelligently and finally decided he had thought long enough to put into practice his ideas and engine No. 64 was equipped and worked very well with the "monkey" or outside valve motion after thorough consultation with C. S. Branch, superintendent of motive power. Number 64 acted very well and next Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Branch grew more ambitious and in July, 1912, they decided to have a new freight engine constructed after the model, or embracing the ideas of Mr. Ramsey, for they knew they had a lieutenant, George W. Imgrund, who could be entrusted with the difficult and complicated undertaking. It was a great compliment to Mr. Imgrund, but one which he had earned and such capable and wise men as Messrs. Ramsey and Branch knew what they were about. It was in November of 1912 that they imparted their intentions to Mr. Imgrund and he began setting his

There is nothing whatever under the engine like the old Stevenson or link motion. Though the Ramsey valve motion did well on No. 64, it has been much improved in its application to No. 68, the new engine. The invention has come to the knowledge of the great eastern works, Baldwin, American and Brooks, and they have had representatives looking it over and they have expressed themselves well pleased.

During the tests by experts it has shown great economy in water and fuel, taking a train of 2,250 tons with 170 pounds of steam as easily as the same engine would take it with 200 pounds of steam with the Stevenson valve motion, which means inside eccentrics and link motion. Its main features consist in getting the steam to the cylinders with full port opening at the beginning of the stroke when it is most needed, using the steam longer during expansion and making a later and sharper exhaust. This sharper exhaust is very beneficial to steam qualities of the engine, as it allows the engine to run with a larger nozzle tip, which allows the steam after being used to escape to the atmosphere with little resistance, thereby working correctly on fire in fire box.

NEW C. P. & ST. L. LOCOMOTIVE NO. 68

mind to work, for while the turning out of a new locomotive in the Baldwin, American and other great works is a trifle, it is no small undertaking to construct one in a machine shop such as is here, for the purpose of repairs and without so many of the facilities necessary for such work, but the difficulties only stimulated Mr. Imgrund and his foremen all the more and the first of November this year the work was undertaken.

Work Interesting to Watch.

It was indeed interesting to watch the monster from time to time and it seemed impossible that the men could do the work in the time in which it was accomplished. Mr. Branch made frequent visits to the shops and scrutinized everything most carefully, giving such suggestions as occurred to him from time to time, adding encouragement and commendation as deserved. From day to day the great machine assumed more and more the appearance of a first class engine and it was evident that nothing about it was being slighted. It should also be understood that the work required a great deal of originality. A large lot of patterns had to be made, many original drawings were called for and much originality was needed, for no engine had been constructed here before and it was no small task.

From day to day the work proceeded and Dec. 3rd, as the readers of the Journal know, the grand machine was fired and started on her maiden trip and went off all right. No one can tell how the heart of Mr. Imgrund was lightened by the success, for while he had every reason to feel certain she would go all right, still there were so many things involved that it would hardly have been surprising if some little thing had not been right, but that didn't happen. She was returned to the shops for some minor changes and again Dec. 6th Mr. Branch came over and inspected her carefully and asked Mr. Imgrund to bring her over to Springfield the next day, which was done by Engineer Sherman and Fireman Hendricks, and there she was looked over and admired by Mr. Ramsey and other officials of the road and several people of the city.

Has Ramsey Valve Motion.

The peculiarity of the engine is the Ramsey valve motion, which is taken from the cross head instead of the main crank pin, as is the case with other outside motion and is an important feature. It is easily accessible to all parts and can be watched with ease and makes a great reduction in machinist labor, on account of few parts. It is easy to remove broken parts in case of breakdown, if such a thing should happen.

Diameter of boiler, 69.50 inches.
Rigid wheel base, 15 feet 6 inches.
Total wheel base, 23 feet, 6 inches.
Total length of boiler, 28 feet 6 inches.
Diameter of driving wheels without tires, 48 inches.
Diameter of driving wheels with tires, 56 inches.
Diameter of engine truck wheels, 30 inches.
Tank capacity of water, 7,000 gallons.
Tank capacity of coal, 15 tons.
Hydrostatic or water test, 275 pounds applied to comply with government requirements, which calls for 25 per cent more than engine will carry in steam and must be given to each engine at least once a year and the report sworn to before a notary public as to its correctness. There was 4,200 pounds of asbestos used for lagging or covering the boiler and this covering was held in place with sheet iron to enable the boiler to retain its heat.

The engine is equipped with what is known as the No. 6 E T locomotive brake equipment. This is the latest style of locomotive brake and is very powerful. It can be operated on both engine and train together or on engine only or on train only. The heavy castings were bought from the American locomotive works of Paterson, New Jersey.

The boiler is constructed of the very best grade of open hearth steel. The shell is 1 1/16th inch thick and 69 1/2 inches in diameter, at the smallest point. It has ultimate tensile strength of 55,000 pounds to the square inch. The seams are butt joined, triple riveted with 1 1/8 inch rivets. It has 285 flues two inches in diameter and 13 feet 10 inches long. It is constructed so as to surpass all the requirements of the interstate commerce locomotive inspection laws.

There were used 3,028 machinist bolts ranging in size from 3/8 by 1 inch to 2 1/2 by 31 inches.
Rivets, 2,160.
Butt head radial stay bolts, 2,160.
Plain head radial stay bolts, 162.
Plain stay bolts, 1,146.
Inside boiler braces to hold front and back heads, 22.
The value of the labor on the locomotive is $9,000.

Its successful completion without a hitch or balk is one of the grandest events in the history of the city and its importance can hardly be overestimated and should be fully appreciated by the citizens of Jacksonville.

How You and We Will Both Profit:

Some people are wondering where the "kink" in our proposal for street lighting is. They cannot see how it will be to our advantage to do the street lighting at a lower price than the cost under municipal ownership and to reduce residence and commercial rates at the same time.

We want it understood that we do not pose as a philanthropic institution. We are not. We are in business to make money, and we cannot make money unless we give better service for less money than somebody else. If we could not do this we would not be in business very long.

We can only sell electric light because it is cheaper and better than kerosene or candles. When kerosene was first used it displaced whale oil and candles because it was cheaper and better.

The only reason that people buy gas from us is because it is cheaper and easier to use than coal. They buy coke from us because it makes a hotter fire for less money than any substitute they can get. They ride in our street cars because the cars provide the quickest and cheapest transportation from one part of the city to another.

Every customer we have has come to us because he cannot get light, heat, or transportation from anybody else as satisfactorily or as cheaply as he can get it from us. Our business success depends upon giving better service for less money.

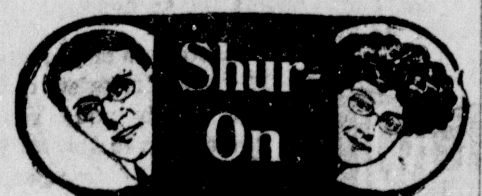

When we offer to do the street lighting, consisting of 800 lamps all night every night, for $12,000 a year, we expect to make money out of this business—but we could not make money at that price if street lighting was our only business. We can do it because we will use the same machinery for street lighting at night which we use to run motors and street cars during the day. In other words the street lighting contract will increase the efficiency of our plant.

Because of this increased efficiency, and and because of the increased revenue coming from the street lighting contract, we can afford to reduce the house and store lighting rates, and STILL MAKE MONEY off them—a thing we could not do if the efficiency of our plant was not increased by the street lighting contract. In other words increased efficiency means decreased operating costs and lower rates

CARRANZA DEFENDS VILLA'S EXECUTION OF FEDERAL OFFICERS

Constitutionalist Leader Replies to Governor of Arizona Giving Reasons for the Summary Execution of Prisoners.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 9.—A letter from General Venustiano Carranza, defending the execution by General Francisco Villa of federal officers captured at Juarez and telling why bloody reprisals were being visited by the revolutionists upon Huertista prisoners of war, was given out today by Governor George W. Hunt of Arizona.

Carranza's letter, dated at Hermosillo, Sonora, Mexico, November 27, was in reply to a communication which Governor Hunt sent to the rebel chieftain suggesting that a continuation of summary executions by insurgent commanders would horrify the people of the United States and alienate their sympathy.

Governor Hunt wrote as a private citizen, not as governor of Arizona. He said he held the constitutionalist leader in high esteem and feared that a repetition of the executions which followed the fall of Juarez, would inevitably rebound to the disadvantage of the constitutionalist cause in Mexico so far as it is related to the citizenship of the United States.

Carranza's Letter.
"Esteemed Governor and True Friend:
"I am pleased to acknowledge the receipt of your interesting letter of the 17th inst., written relative to the occupation of the city of Juarez by the Constitutional forces under the immediate command of General Villa, and to assure you of my gratitude for the high regard for me personally which you expressed therein.

"While recognizing with pleasure the spirit of frank friendship which actuated your letter, your personal sympathy and that of the people of the United States with the struggle for the furtherance of civilization and justice which we are carrying on, I cannot the less deplore the fact that with an imperfect understanding of the peculiar character of the Mexican problems, there is likelihood in certain cases, and notwithstanding our good intention, of placing a wrong construction on some of our acts.

"This is due, in all probability, to the fact that the criminal acts with which this struggle was begun and the cruel measures employed to maintain it are forgotten.

"When Mexico had realized the supreme democratic prerogative of selecting her own representatives and had reasons to expect in the midst of peace and tranquility, the periodical change of public officials only by an expression of popular will, a most corrupt minority of the defeated factions, after attempting to overthrow for all time our political institutions by means of violence alone, have destroyed the lives, the rights and the interests of our fellow citizens, have carried out bloody execution without regard to any law; have murdered Constitutionalists who fell wounded while fighting for the liberty of the people and the deputies and senators who have defended with their power of speech our democratic institutions, have torn away from their homes peaceful men and even boys to compel them to take arms against us, or have filled them with terror by devastating entire cities.

"Destructive acts of this character have made it apparent that the cause which I represent has constituted not only a political form revolution, but also has the character of preceding calm and severe justice which punishes the culpable and safeguards the Mexican family.

"I have determined, within the spirit of our constitution and without any feeling of passion, but deliberately and with circumspection, to pursue these ends, until gradually the exercise of clemency and magnanimity can be attained in satisfaction of an imperative demand of justice and the urgent necessity of securing peace and of assuring the future welfare of the nation.

"I have determined to enforce vigorously and in accordance with the proclamation which was duly issued on May 14, 1913, the law of Juarez of January 25, 1912, which defines and punishes delinquencies inimical to the public peace.

Had Been Once Pardoned.

"With strict deference to the law provided, the Huertista officers were tried and executed in the city of Juarez. Among them were some who had been captured at Torreón by this same General Villa, who, after pardoning them, agreed that they should be enlisted by our forces. Thereafter they endeavored, but unsuccessfully to create a defection of the men whom I entrusted to their command, finally deserting to re-engage in crime.

"It is true that the established principles observed in international wars extend to prisoners the privilege of pardon or immunity from bodily harm, but in civil struggles, the most civilized nations in all ages have employed more rigorous and bloody means even than we have been compelled to adopt. And with reference to the executions of the officers in the city of Juarez, there should be perceived not any needless cruelty visited upon prisoners of war, but merely such punishment as was prescribed by the law applicable to offenders against the public peace and safety.

"The Mexican people, in the beginning of this civil struggle, initiated by Hon. Francisco I. Madero, exhausted all their power of clemency and forgiveness, but experienced as the only results of their magnanimity, tyranny in their country's interior and the loss of prestige outside of its borders.

"Today I want to insure the operation of the country's institutions and to re-establish tranquility for all time by means of definite and effective reparation of the national organization.

"The occurrences at the city of Juarez were far from being invested with the numerical importance which our enemies, in their temperate frame of mind, desired to give them. In the same manner more than forty women and children had committed suicide through fears of excesses that might be indulged in by the constitutionalists since I can personally give assurances that in Durango as in all other parts of the country, our forces have been disciplined and considerate giving guarantees of safety to the different populations which have fallen into their powers.

"In conclusion, it is my desire to assure you that the same humane sentiment which you possess also animates me, and that even though I find it necessary, in deference to the existing national feeling, justice to public convenience, and the necessity of restoring peace to my country, to be somewhat strict in the enforcement of the law of Juarez, I have provided at the same time that this law shall be applied only when the limitations are fixed by the most absolute need, it shall be enforced only against wilful enemies, with the privilege of pardon and safety extended always to the guiltless and misguided.

"I entertain the hope furthermore, that my former declarations will suffice to make clear the just and humane attitude carefully observed by the constitutionalists and to retain your personal sympathies as well as the opinion of the people of North America in favor of our cause, and you may be sure that I will take into consideration your high ideals to the extent of recommending, always with due respect to the law greater forbearance toward our enemies.

"With assurance of my highest esteem, may it please you to regard me as your kindly and sincere friend.

(Signed) "V. CARRANZA."

GIR DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at once—Stops Falling Out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff! cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Adv.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Takes Druggist's Advice With Splendid Result.

If anyone should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist who sells it every day in the week and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Uline of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had a severe attack and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol which I did with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite and I am as strong as ever I was. I advise all who have bronchitis, chronic coughs or who are run-down to try Vinol." It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient in such cases.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say—we pay back your money if it does not. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill. P. S. Stop scratching, our Sazo Salve stops itching. We guarantee it.

We Trust the Working People

Years of experience have taught us that the laboring people are just as honest as the wealthy. A credit extended to them is appreciated, and is generally repaid, so we invite you to call on us for the MONEY you need. We will be pleased to have the opportunity to talk the matter over with you whether you use our MONEY or not.

REMEMBER—We do not ask a lot of embarrassing questions or go nosing around among your relatives or friends to find out all about you. We do nothing of the kind. We simply loan you the MONEY, and that's all there is to it. You may need a little MONEY to pay up all your little bills and have but one place to pay. If you do we will be glad to accommodate you. All we ask for security is a lien on your Furniture, Piano, Live Stock or other personal property, simply as an evidence of good faith on your part. You may return the MONEY to us in small WEEKLY or MONTHLY payments. We write Fire Insurance.

Bring Them In

If it has been a year or more since your fire extinguisher was filled it is needing fresh chemicals. If brought to our office, we charge nothing for reloading any tip over extinguisher sold by us—and only a very small price for others. It is dangerous to neglect the matter.

DECATUR REVIEW OBSERVES ITS TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Herald Extends Congratulations to Howard C. Schaub, John P. Drennan and Jerry Donahue in Sunday's Issue.

In its issue of Sunday morning the Decatur Herald extends its congratulations to Howard C. Schaub, John P. Drennan and Jerry Donahue on the completion of their twenty-five years of successful management of the Decatur Review and contains an excellent likeness of each of the three men, all of whom were former Jacksonville residents.

The Herald sets forth the newspaper situation in Decatur when Messrs. Schaub, Drennan and Donahue purchased the Review, at that time there being five struggling dailies in the field with small circulation, small profits and no chance of any great service to the community. Mr. Drennan is given the credit of solving the problem by a process of elimination until there remained but two, each of them covering its special field and performing its special service.

Glowing tributes are also paid Mr. Drennan's associates, Messrs. Schaub and Donahue, the former being characterized as "an editor who fills his chair and does not rattle around in it" and the latter as a man who has an inimitable style and whose editorials are invariably new, sy for the reason that the sanctum sees less of him than the street.

The following paragraph from the Herald's article gives an idea of the esteem in which the men are held by their competitors:

"To the men who have made the Daily Review what it is, John P. Drennan, Howard C. Schaub and Jerry Donahue, The Herald extends its warmest congratulations on this the celebration of the completion of 25 years on the job. Better men than they The Herald could not ask for as rival publishers, and Decatur cannot be too thankful to have had them this quarter of century as citizens. Fine types of intelligent and sanely enthusiastic boosters, they have been for the community, and thoroughly alert and gallant competitors they have been for The Herald."

COMING FRIDAY.

There is a special charm in Fiske O'Hara's new play, "In Old Dublin," which he will present at the Grand Friday night. It is a charm which will be relished and appreciated by those who love the rollicking stories of Charles Lever, Maxwell and other of the Irish novelties, who wrote of that period, the early part of the last century. It has that daredevil atmosphere in which the pulse of the auditor beats faster and faster with good wholesome blood. It is the period in which gallantry held sway; when for love's sake a young blade was willing to face his hunter at a dangerous fence or try his luck in the duello. Of such material is the hero of "In Old Dublin" and Mr. O'Hara is exceptionally happy in a role of this kind. He is said to have made the success of his life in Neil Powers, the young marine architect who is the central figure of the story. With a lot of catching new songs and some old time favorites sung as he only can sing them, there can hardly be any doubt of the popularity of "In Old Dublin."

Send It By The Box!

Most dealers now sell clean, pure, healthful

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

for 85 cents a box!

It's the biggest-looking, longest-lasting Christmas gift you can find! Send it to young or old, sweetheart or friends—alone or "for good measure."

CAUTION!

The great popularity of the clean, pure, healthful WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT is causing unscrupulous persons to wrap rank imitations that are not even real chewing gum so they resemble genuine Wrigley's. The better class of stores will not try to fool you with these imitations. They will be offered to you principally by street fakirs, peddlers and the candy departments of some 5 and 10 cent stores. These rank imitations cost dealers one cent a package or even less and are sold to careless people for almost any price. If you want Wrigley's look before you buy.

Get what you pay for Your friends abroad would appreciate it—send a box by parcel post.

We are inserting the above caution solely to protect our customers, who are continually writing us that they have been deceived by imitations which they purchased thinking they were WRIGLEY'S.

ACTION OF A FEW STOCKS AFFECTS WHOLE MARKET

Stocks Which Develop Particular Weakness Are of Sufficient Importance to Swing Sentiment of Exchange.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The action of the stock market today hinged largely on a few issues in which particular weakness developed.
These stocks were of sufficient importance to affect the whole market which was heavy and at times nervous. New Haven dropped nearly five points to 71%; the lowest price at which it ever sold. New York Central and American Sugar were put down 3 points to the lowest figures in five years. Canadian Pacific fell four points. Such sharp declines among prominent stocks constituted an influence which could not be ignored. St. Paul, Lehigh Valley and steel showed weakness early in the day and as the session advanced the list as a whole was born down.

New Haven's weakness was ascribed to double over the action to be taken over tomorrow, by the directors.
Canadian Pacific was influenced adversely by the company's decision to issue $52,000,000 notes. The fortnightly report of freight car movements showed the surplus of idle freight cars increased 34,500.
The continued firmness of money imposed a restraint on speculation.
Renewals of call loans were made at five per cent and later at six.

CORNER STONE IS PLACED IN POSITION

INTERESTING CEREMONY TAKES PLACE AT EIGHTH GRADE BUILDING.

Large Company Present Included Pupils From All Ward Schools—Supt. Gore Made Address and Dr. L. H. Clampt presented History of Movement Which Made the Building Possible.

The corner stone of the new eighth grade building was laid Tuesday afternoon when a program brief but appropriate was carried out. The assemblage was made up largely of pupils from the ward schools and an inspiring sight they presented. Supt. Gore presided and the principal feature of the occasion was the reading of a brief historical sketch of the movement, which resulted in the beginning of the new building. The corner stone was formally laid by Supt. Gore, Principal Collins of the high school and Miss Laura White principal of the Eighth grade.

The exercises began with a musical number by the high school band and a song, "Illinois," by the assemblage. Then Prin. Gore made a brief address dwelling upon what a well rounded education means and pointing out the advantages which the new building will offer in bettering school facilities in Jacksonville. Then Dr. Clampt was introduced as the Jacksonville man who has had the largest experience in school board management. Dr. Clampt in an interesting way reviewed the history of the eighth grade building movement. When he concluded he placed the manuscript of his address in the corner box in the corner stone together with copies of the Courier and Journal, a copy of the November payroll of the board of education, the names of members of the board of education, the names of members of the city council, a list of pupils of the public schools made chiefly in autograph, names of the contractor, sub-contractors and workers now engaged in the building, pictures of the high school collected by William Allcott. At the conclusion of this ceremony the company joined in singing America and Rev. G. W. Flagg offered a prayer. The stone was then formally laid. It is at the northeast corner of the building and carved thereon are the date, names of officers and members of the board of education.

The address by Dr. Clampt is given in full herewith.

Owing to the lateness of the season and the probable limited pleasant weather and the desire on the part of the contractor to push the work and lose as little time as possible, it has been suggested or rather a desire of the Board of Education and Faculty that no great demonstration was necessary or advisable upon this occasion, but to have some exercises by the pupils and reading a short history of the Eighth grade and Building. So the members of the board, having recognized my ability for short articles have extended to me the courtesy of preparing the latter, which owing to the limited time of my knowledge of the affair, will be very brief.

I would be very ungrateful did I not express to the president and members of the School Board my sincere appreciation for this honor of recognition, and regret that I didn't have more time to go into the details more fully pertaining to the welfare of our schools, and especially the more important reasons why it has been so essential that the Board of Education should succeed in carrying out their plans that they and former members have labored so hard and faithfully for several years to perfect.

I also wish to thank the Clerk of the Board of Education, Richard Pratt for his assistance in looking up the old records that made it possible to get the data for this occasion.

Figuratively speaking, Corner Stone laying is something that should be regarded as fundamental or of primary importance, as "Magna Charta" the Corner Stone of English history; "Obedience" the corner stone in home training. The word coronation is restricted in use to the ceremony or solemnity of placing a crown on the head of an actual or future King or Emperor, to signify his accession or his formal recognition as actual or future sovereign. So we are gathered here today with all the solemnity of a coronation for the purpose of laying the Corner Stone of this Eighth Grade Building to signify that this is the accession or formal recognition of the future sovereign of the Eighth Grade.

An Age of Progress.

This is an age of progress and high ideals. High schools all over the country are making vast strides of development, and straining every effort to promote the best and highest efficiency, so that they may be placed upon the accredited list of associated Colleges and High Schools. The entire course of study has undergone such required modification that the pupils without regard to their future callings are not compelled to spend several years in specific preparation for college. It is a well known fact that a very large per cent of the graduates of our high schools go to these higher institutions, we should therefore be ever reminded of the more important duties that we are to perform for the other volume or about ninety per cent who go out into life, entering into the avenues of Agriculture, Commercial Life, Mechanical activity, Home Economics, or other activities. Is it not then the most reasonable, just and proper course to pursue, that if this large per cent of our boys and girls are to leave the high school for these various forms of industrial activities that we should not only give to them an equal opportunity and advantage with those that attend college, but it should be out unremitting study to acquire such a degree of knowledge and information, that will enable us to discharge with property the various duties incumbent upon us, and to preserve unimpaired, the title now conferred upon us by continuing to give to the pupil the best opportunities and advantages that will enable them to discover his or her tendencies of life? To accomplish this purpose along with the Educational advantages, we must have good health, both in body and mind, so Physical Culture should be one of the most important item in our curriculum.

The records show that for the last twenty years there has been a gradual and constant demand for a Commercial and Agricultural Education. This in connection with the Domestic Science and Manual Training Departments, has made it imperative for the School Board to separate the Eighth Grade from the main building in order to give the necessary space for the enlargement and increased development of each department.

Eighth Grade Work Adopted.

I find that in looking over the records previous to 1892 that the work, or that part of the Eighth Grade Course was intermingled with the High School course. During the school term of 1891 and 1892, conditions were such and a growing demand for a more expanded course in our high school, that the board at that time decided to try the plan of adopting an eighth grade in conjunction with the seventh grade work so in June 1892 is the first record of the eighth grade in our public schools. The members of the Board of Education consisted of George W. Smith, E. Rothwell, Nathan Jerald and Dr. J. C. Widenham, T. S. Knoles, president and Nicholas Milburn, clerk. The first appointments as teachers of the eighth grade in connection with the seventh grade were Miss Helen Calky, Miss Laura White and Miss Frances Alkire.

Miss White has been in continuous service and by her long devoted and successful career, has won her much fame as a teacher and director and deserves the long coveted Edifice to occupy which we honor today. Miss Calky, now the Assistant Principal of the high school and Miss Alkire now teacher in the eighth grade, have also been successful and deserve great praise for their long and devoted service in our schools. I make special mention of these teachers as they were the first to take up special eighth grade work.

This work was carried on in the various ward schools and continued so until the present High School was completed in 1901.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education, January 3rd, 1898, with the following members present, George W. Smith, H. M. Hamill, Abner Upham and L. H. Clampt, Albert Holley, president and S. B. Stewart, clerk, member Smith offered a resolution going into detail of the dilapidated condition of the then high school building and of the crowded condition of the ward buildings which made it imperative for the Board to take some action, suggested that the Board offer a premium for the best plans of a high school and eighth grade building combined. Matters were discussed pro and con as to the kind of a building and the advisability of adopting the eighth grade as a part of our high school. March, 1898, orders were issued by the Board for the clerk to send out notices to all architects for proposed plans. In due time, plans from all sources came in, giving the Board much needed assistance in determining the kind of a building that seemed advisable at that time. February, 1899, plans submitted by N. A. Buckingham were accepted, after the recommendation of a committee of citizens who had been appointed owing to a strife that was waging between several architects. Plans that were adopted were so arranged that it gave to the eighth grade a home where their work was in a nucleus instead of being in three separate ward buildings. Plans and specifications completed, bids were advertised that we might have everything in readiness to start the building at the close of the school.

Proceedings Stopped. At the regular meeting of the board, April 14th, 1899, President Tyler reported that papers for an injunction had been served, thus temporarily stopping the procedure of the building and all bids were rejected and returned to the contractors unopened. There was some sentiment at the time as there has recently been, that to get a high school, we must get the consent of the people and issue bonds instead of direct taxation. The board in order to get an expression of the people, put the issue before them as to the leasing of bonds for the erection of the building and of buying a new site, the Elliott property—both propositions being defeated.

November 1899, the board instructed the architect to so modify the plans until he could guarantee the cost not to exceed $37,000, this being necessary in order that the board could proceed with building.

In May, 1900, under the directorship of members, Orear, Rapp, Duncan and Upham, the proposed plans were revised and the construction of the building began and in November, 1901, the contractor and architect informed the board that the building was completed, which was afterward accepted by members Orear, Whitmer, Rapp and Upham, John R. Davis, president, and S. B. Stewart, clerk.

After eight years of service in progressive education in the present high school building, it again became evident that some action must be taken to relieve the serious condition of the needs which confronted the board. With this view in mind, at the regular meeting, August 2, 1909, the members of the board consisting of Birkenhead, Bavington, Rogerson and Clampt, H. H. Bancroft, president, and Geo. W. Davis, clerk, passed a resolution asking the city council to pass a tax levy of $20,000 for a new eighth grade building. It was the original plan of the board to add or build onto the present high school building, but owing to the marring the architectural beauty of the present building and the desire of adding the gymnasium as an important factor, the members secured an option upon the property of this block and at their next meeting of June, 1910, the board authorized the purchase of this property which were the homes of the following parties:

Mrs. Elizabeth Koch, 130x46 1-2 feet, $2,200.

Charles Thomson, 139x65 feet, $3,300.

Northminster Presbyterian church, 139x65 feet, $4,000.

Paul Alexander, 130x46 1-2 feet, $3,000.

E. E. Hatfield, $5,000.

Total—$17,500, which was consummated by September, 1910. Immediate action was taken for the construction of adopting suitable plans for the new building.

Plans Submitted.

September 11, 1912, the regular meeting of the board of education with members Bavington, Badger, Rogerson and Clampt, George W. Davis, president, and R. L. Pyatt, clerk, elected Clarence E. Buckingham architect for the proposed new eighth grade building. Plans and specifications were finally submitted for one of the most complete and up-to-date school buildings with all of the modern, sanitary and fire-proof equipments. As time went on, obstacles of various types were encountered, changes among the members of the board were made, tax levy refused by the commissioners, and other complications which are yet fresh in your memory, so the members of the new board which consisted of Bavington, Hall, Rogerson, Wells, George W. Davis, president and Pyatt, clerk, passed a resolution requiring the architect to revise the plans and bring the cost of the building within the amount of funds on hand. The request finally complied with and through the persistent efforts of the chairman of the building committee, E. E. Bavington. The revised plans were accepted and an order to advertise for bids, which in due time were opened and the contract for the new eighth grade building was let to John Wolke.

November 2, 1913, the architect and contractors measured and set their stakes and the first shovel of dirt removed in excavating for the foundation was performed by Rev. Walter E. Spooner.

November 25, the first brick of the foundation was laid by the architect, C. W. Buckingham.

I had the pleasure and I deem it also an honor to take the trowel and spread the cement for the second brick which completed the angle of the corner. This I trust is the final struggle and that no hardships will cross the pathway for the goal is near at hand for the long cherished hopes, and in honor of this great enterprise and as a reminder of how things are done in this age, I deposit this copy into the bronze box for the consideration of future generations.

In behalf of the Board of education, I deposit a copy of the way roll, Jacksonville Daily Journal and Jacksonville Courier, also the names of the city commissioners and other city officials and last but not least, the signatures of students.

Just as long as you have catarrh your head will be stopped up, your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and snuffle, you will have droppings in the throat and that choked up feeling in the morning. The germs of catarrh have you in their power; they are continually irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat.

BOARD SETTLES LAND SQUABBLE

WOODSON CITIZENS ADJUST TROUBLES OUT OF COURT.

Decision Against Samuel Henry, Who Was Required to Pay Damages to Evert Crane and Henry Grunder.—Capt. John E. Wright on Board of Arbitration.

As a sequel to a misunderstanding over the renting of ninety-one acres of land near Woodson, in which Samuel Henry, Henry Grunder and Evert Crane were the participants, the arbitration board consisting of Capt. John E. Wright of this city, James Lonergan and William Megginson, to which the matter was referred, held its session in Woodson Tuesday and gave a decision in favor of Messrs. Grunder and Crane.

The trouble arose several weeks ago and did not develop seriously until the 8th of November when the men happened to meet in Woodson, which ended in a row. From reports of the misunderstanding, Samuel Henry had rented ninety-one acres of land from his brother-in-law, Henry Grunder. He had a contract for three years and Grunder claimed that in the contract Henry was, during that time, to put all the land in clover. Grunder claims that Henry put only part of the land in clover. The third party in the case was Evert Crane, a son-in-law of Grunder, who had rented the other 49 acres of the Grunder farm, but desired to have all the land, and had entered into a contract for the same, possession to be the first of March. Because Henry failed to keep his end of the contract Grunder believed that Henry should vacate and let Crane proceed to put in wheat or begin preparations for next year's crop. Henry claimed that, as he did not have to give over possession until March first, that Crane had no right on the land.

Affairs moved along in an unsatisfactory manner until Henry and Grunder chanced to meet on the streets of Woodson. This was on the 8th of November. Words of an uncompromising character passed between the two men and Henry becoming enraged picked up a piece of wood and was just in the act of striking Grunder, when Evert Crane who happened to be near, rushed in between the two men. The blow that was intended for Grunder fell to Crane, who received a bad injury to his head and was brought to Passavant hospital. The trouble stopped when other friends intervened. Crane remained in the hospital for several days under the care of Dr. Edward Bowe. In discussing the fight, Henry claimed that Crane was taking Grunder's part, but Crane claimed that he rushed in to help the aged participant.

The affair threatened to get into the courts but finally an agreement was reached on leaving the matter to the decision of a board of arbitration. Mr. Henry to pick one member of the board, Mr. Crane another and the two men selected were to name the third. The participants signed a document in which they promised to stand by the decision of the board. Mr. Henry chose James Lonergan, Mr. Crane chose Capt. John E. Wright of Jacksonville and Messrs. Lonergan and Wright named Wm. Megginson as the third member of the board.

The session of the board was held in the Odd Fellows' hall in Woodson Tuesday, from 11:30 o'clock until 4:30. A large number, knowing of the trial, gathered to hear the testimony, but the board decided to work behind closed doors, so the big number was disappointed.

Among the witnesses examined aside from the participants were John Henry, John Rea, Ray Henry, Mrs. Samuel Henry, Mrs. Henry Grunder, Dr. G. W. Miller, Dr. Edward Bowe, Dallas Crane, Earl Sorrells, Robert Cooper and others, some twenty in all.

After taking all the evidence the board decided that Mr. Henry was in the wrong and that he should pay Mr. Grunder $50.00 because he did not fulfill his part of the rent contract. The board also decided that Mr. Henry should pay Mr. Crane's doctor bill, hospital bill, and $100 besides.

Submitting to the Inevitable

The different cloak manufacturers on Dec. 1, 2 and 3 held their Annual Clearance Sale. This year their concessions were a total and absolute surrender to the peculiarly unusual weather conditions.

It happened to have been our lot to start in the Cloak and Suit business just at its unfoldment and to have followed it closely in all the different phases of its remarkable development.

Never in the last 20 years have the weather conditions been more unfavorable and never has there been more clean and desirable merchandise thrown on the market at such ruinous prices.

Our knowledge of the distribution facilities of this store led us to purchase largely with perfect confidence in the belief that these hundreds of cloaks would be sold in Jacksonville and vicinity.

A fact to be remembered, is that being sole agents for the PRINTZESS garments, we are the only ones empowered to show their goods at reduced prices. All cloaks are priced in six groups. Hundreds in all to select from with perfect confidence in the styles and guaranteed wearing qualities.

JURY GIVES VERDICT IN YUELL CASE TUESDAY

CONFIRMS FINDINGS OF SUICIDE AT PREVIOUS SESSION.

Body Also Finds That Deceased Had Been Mistreated and Denied Privilege of Attending District School, Sunday School and Church.

After four hours and fifteen minutes of deliberation the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mina Youell at Pisgah returned a verdict Tuesday afternoon that the girl "came to her death by carbolic acid poison administered by her own hand. We further find by the preponderance of evidence that said Mina Youell had been mistreated and denied the privileges of attending the district school, Sunday school and church." The verdict was signed by the following members of the jury: G. S. Beekman, foreman; George Wood, Riley Spaenhower, James D. Pike, Jr., T. B. Buchanan, and William Beekman, clerk.

Various Witnesses Examined.
At the morning session of the inquest John Tayman, the undertaker, who embalmed the body of the deceased, was called to the stand and Mrs. Dyer, Miss Pearl Davenport and Robert Montgomery who testified at previous sessions of the probe were called. Walter Woods, a director of the Sulphur Springs school, also testified and another of the witnesses heard was Mrs. Millie D. Dorsey, a member of the ladies executive committee of the Woodland Home at Quincy, which placed the Youell girl in the J. E. Davenport home.

Mrs. Dorsey testified that she was secretary of the Woodland home when the girl was placed in the Davenport residence but at present is a member of the ladies executive committee. She said that she did not recall the case of Etta Burgo and had no recollection of Della Riden being placed in the home at Pisgah. She testified that the Youell girl first entered the Woodland home February 6, 1908, and remained until December 31, 1908. She stated that the girl returned January 3, 1909 and was taken out April 14, 1909 by Marjorie Davenport. After stating that the girl was born July 22, 1897 at Clarence, Mo., Mrs. Dorsey told of the requirements for entering the Woodland home and said that the home had three certificates as to the character of Miss Marjorie Davenport but had none regarding Mr. and Mrs. Davenport. She said that no one of the home had personally investigated the Davenport home either before or after the girl had been placed there and that the home had no such visitors.

Thorough Investigation.
The verdict of Tuesday afternoon ends one of the most thorough investigations ever conducted by a coroner's jury in Morgan county as far as the coroner is concerned. The girl committed suicide on the morning of October 28 and the jury convened at that time which was the same which brought the last verdict, found that the deceased had committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Stories of alleged mistreatment of the deceased reached Miss Mary Jewell, visitor for the state board of administration, on one of her visits in the southeastern part of the county, and she took up the matter with her chief Dr. Charles Virden, state agent for the board of administration.

This resulted in an investigation conducted by agents for the state board of administration, who finally caused the coroner's inquest to convene, the body to be exhumed and a post mortem examination to be made. On the day that the body was disinterred a large number of witnesses were examined and the session was attended by Dr. Virden and Miss Jewell, who also attended the sessions held Monday and Tuesday. The inquest has been in charge of Deputy Coroner John G. Reynolds and was attended by Coroner George W. Wright. State's Attorney Robert Tilton supervised the inquiry at Monday and Tuesday's sessions.
